Storage operations

- From Friday, February 28th – Monday, March 31st storage activity averaged a withdrawal rate of just 64-MMcf/d. Daily activity varied from a withdrawal rate of 1.5-Bcf/d to an injection rate of 736-MMcf/d
- Storage capacity is at 33 percent, at the end of the withdrawal season.
- ANR has met all firm customer demand for storage activity.
- There are currently no posted restrictions on storage activity.

Total Storage is 33% Full

Storage operations

- With the end of the withdrawal season, storage activity is primarily on injection, but withdrawals are still possible. ANR will ensure sufficient injection capacity is maintained to meet firm injection demand.
  - ❖ When needed, sufficient withdrawal capacity will be available to meet anticipated demand
- ANR has completed the process of turning around storage fields from withdrawal to injection.
- The available capacity will continue to be reflected on the EBB under the operationally available capacity

Outage postings

- Service impacts are estimates. Actual nominations, markets, weather and pipeline conditions determine any level of curtailments.
- Projects may be added, altered, delayed or cancelled. Emergent work cannot be planned and will happen from time to time.
- Notice of such planned work, including additions or changes, will be provided via a posting under the Planned Service Outage (PSO) category in GEMS. Emergent work will be posted under the Critical Notice category as soon as possible.

ANR RATE CASE UPDATE

Sorana Linder
Vice President, Rates & Regulatory

Regulatory Update – ANR Rate Case Timing

- ❖ Consistent with ANRs last rate case settlement, ANR's moratorium expires on November 1, 2025.
- ❖ ANR anticipates filing a General NGA Section 4 rate case on April 30, 2025, with rates becoming effective on November 1, 2025.
- ❖ ANR has made significant capital expenditures, including expenditures in compliance with various third-party mandates and this rate filing provides an opportunity for ANR to revise its rates to reflect its current costs, revenues, and other circumstances.
- ❖ In addition to updated financials, to align the system with how it is being utilized, the rate case will also propose a change in rate design to be effective prospectively pending the outcome of the rate case proceeding.
